To whom it may concern,

This letter is written to inform the reader that during the period from April of 1994 through November of 2001, I held the rank of Chief of Detectives for the City of White Plains Police Department. During my tenure in that position, the department did on certain occasions, engage the services of one Marisa Anderson to participate in investigations that were being conducted at that time.

During those engagements, I found that Marisa conducted herself in a very professional manner and that some of the information that she provided the Department proved to be helpful in those investigations.

Sincerely,

Peter A. Viviano
